Future Manufacturing

Create an innovative manufacturing field !

> > > > What will the future manufacturing factory look like?

The lack of work and materials in the aftermath of the outbreak has prompted more factories to proactively implement new technologies to improve agility, flexibility and reliability of work.

This area brings together 5G applications, long-distance collaboration, industrial IoT, AI artificial intelligence, digital twins, edge computing, industrial metaverse, collaborative robots and other industry contributors in the future manufacturing field, to jointly draw the vision of the future smart manufacturing field .
